About the University

Over Six decades ago, in 1960, first agriculture university of the nation, the G.B.Pant University of Agriculture & Technology, was established at Pantnagar on the pattern of Land Grant Agriculture Universities of the United States. The University has produced more than 50,000 students who have flourished in India and elsewhere in the world, has earned the credibility as being 'harbinger of green revolution' in the country. The university constitutes 07 colleges and provides undergraduate degree in 14 disciplines; Masters degree in 65 disciplines and PhD in 58 disciplines.

About the College

The College, earlier known as College of Veterinary Medicine, was established in 1960, as one of the two constituent colleges of the first Agricultural University of India the U.P. Agricultural University to impart undergraduate and postgraduate education for producing competent veterinarians; to conduct basic and applied research on various aspects of livestock health, production and livestock products technology; to carryout veterinary and animal husbandry extension activities through farm advisory services, health care services, organizing animal welfare camps, livestock shows etc. and to provide expert advice in veterinary and animal husbandry matters including diagnostic services and health coverage programs.

About the Workshop

In this workshop, students will be given Hands on Training for sample preparation, Primer designing, RNA isolation, PCR amplification, gene cloning, SDS-PAGE, Western Blot, FACS, ELISA, Real time PCR and various bioinformatics tools relevant to gene-based research. Along with this, they will be given opportunities to learn high end equipments. These are the basic techniques applied in most of molecular biology work for students in their PG/PhD degree program.
